

	Object: Tarogato (Bass) Museum: Zenetörténeti Múzeum Táncsics Mihály u. 7. 1014 Budapest (36-1) 214-6770 / 253 zti.muzeum@abtk.hu Collection: Hangszergyűjtemény Inventory number: Z 2021.02.
--	---

Description

Stowasser bass Tarogato

A national instrument, the soprano Tarogato patented by János Stowasser (1846-1923) in 1897, was widely used. In the early 20th century, the master developed a whole family of Tarogato in various tunings. As far as we know, this is the only bass Tarogato to have survived in Hungary. It is a unique piece with a body made of Brazilian cocobolo rosewood and handmade brass keys. The instrument is in excellent playing condition.

Basic data

Material/Technique: Brazilian cocobolo rosewood

Measurements:

Events

Created	When	1920s
	Who	Stowasser gyártmány
	Where	Budapest

Keywords

- aerophone
- musical instrument

Literature

- Brauer-Benke József-Legeza László (2021): Nemzeti hangszerünk a tárogató. Budapest